

Touching the Tide

Exploring our changing coast

Suffolk
Coast &
Heaths

Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty

Touching the Tide

Why Touching the Tide?

Touching the Tide

Total £1m

1 year of development
plus 3 years of delivery

90% from HLF

Started May
2013, ended
July 2016

Touching the Tide

Landscape History is still unfinished

Touching the Tide

Barber's Point September 2013

Touching the Tide

Barber's Point Dig 2013

Touching the Tide

Barber's Point December 2013

Touching the Tide

Dunwich Dig – Aug 2015

Touching the Tide

Underwater Dunwich!

Touching the Tide

Underwater Dunwich

Touching the Tide

The Orfordness Lighthouse Project

photo by V M Worrall - Seafaring Day Commemoration Orfordness Lighthouse 14th Sept 2013

Touching the Tide

Using Art to think about change

Felixstowe – 1884 and 2012

Touching the Tide

Juliet Lockhart – East Lane Foundling

Touching the Tide

Imagining Change Exhibition

Touching the Tide

DISCOVER DOGGERLAND

THE DROWNED WORLD UNDER THE NORTH SEA
EXPLORED THROUGH SCIENCE, MYTH, ART AND STORIES

SATURDAY
7 NOVEMBER 2015

10.00AM – 3.30PM

THE CUT
HALESWORTH
IP19 8BY

Touching the Tide

Greenlight Trust

Touching the Tide

Graduate Trainees – passing on the torch

Touching the Tide

Our 3D Virtual Model of a Martello Tower

Touching the Tide

Touching the Tide Film!

NEWS SUFFOLK

Home World UK England N. Ireland Scotland Wales Business Politics Health Education Sci/Environment Technology Entertainment & Arts

7 October 2013 Last updated at 13:26

Aldeburgh dig unearths teenager's 'keepsakes' box

The dig took place at Barber's Point on the north bank of the River Alde near Aldeburgh

An Anglo-Saxon teenage girl's box of trinkets is thought to have been uncovered by archaeologists during a three-week dig in Suffolk.

The excavation of a graveyard, dating from about AD650, has been completed at Barber's Point on the River Alde.

Top Stories

Osborne plans
business rates review

LIVE Autumn Statement: 3 December 2014

Thousands mourn Hughes at funeral

Lee Rigby's killer loses appeal bid NEW

Medieval city 'detected' with no dig

Features

Two wheels, one pedal

The cyclist with one leg who races in the Alps and Pyrenees

Vigilante power

Attacks provoke men to take up arms against Boko Haram

On the Borderline

What do those on Anglo-Scottish border think of drink-drive change?

Noisy subculture

But what motivates car 'cruisers' and 'modders'?

Still suffering

The children of Bhopal bear scars of gas leak 30 years on

Related Stories

Dig reveals Christian burial site

Rebuilt Anglo-Saxon

Touching the Tide

Touching the Tide Landscape Partnership

Suffolk Coastal Sea Defences
Potential Landscape and Visual Effects

Final Report

21 June 2016

Alison Farmer Associates
25 Montague Road
Cambridge
CB4 1BU
01223 461444
www.alisonfarmer.co.uk

In association with HLR Wallingford,
Cambridge Coastal Research Unit and Countryside

Final Publications and Evaluation

Suffolk's Changing Coast

Liz Ferretti

Touching the Tide

It comes down to sense of place, about people, about stories – and that's what Landscapes are all about...